Jacob Filer

To Whom it may concern,

I am very interested in the Software Engineer position advertised on indeed.com. I believe my training and experience as a Full-Stack Web Developer will allow me to significantly contribute to NKBC's mission.

My development training, as well as my personal experience has provided me with hands-on experience and knowledge on building full-stack web applications in the .NET framework. This includes demonstrated knowledge and experience working with C#, MVC, SQL/SQL Server, and front-end technologies/frameworks. It is still under construction, but you will be able to find examples of my work at www.jacobfiler.com.

My experience includes:

- Creative problem solving.
- Customer service and support.
- Programming both new applications and maintenance work.
- Problem isolation and analysis.
- Software and Web quality testing.
- Application and requirement analysis.
- Process improvement and documentation.

I look forward to having the opportunity to speak with you in further detail about the open position. Please feel free to contact me should you have any questions. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Jacob Filer
